

Problem

We can use the algorithm developed in the previous question. If there are no central nodes, then there is only one minimum cut – it is the cut where all the upstream nodes are upstream, and where all the downstream nodes are downstream.